

Loves his job, but with cutbacks and heavy workloads can't see the light at the end of the tunnel.

energize

Used to give 100% on the job; poorly conducted performance reviews made her feel like 75% was good enough.

inspire

Has the makings of a great manager, just needs help figuring out how to motivate his people.

stimulate

"I've walked in most of the shoes..."

Rick Loghry, Actions Speak, LLC

Solved personnel challenges like these throughout his management career. Can tailor an approach to get your team back on track... and keep them there.

collaborate

...I've been there from bottom to top.”

To succeed, a company needs to work together from bottom to top. Actions Speak can help you define and set your company goals, then put the processes in place to achieve them. Think of it as a blueprint for building consensus, teamwork and a strong bottom line.

Evaluated the company environment; introduced ways to achieve company goals, build on individual strengths and develop and maintain a skilled workforce.

Starting to understand the keys to motivating and managing his people.

Thinking of ways to push her performance back up to 100%. Maybe 110%.

Sees how setting company priorities will help him manage his own workload.

Let Actions Speak customize an approach for your business. Whether your company is completely disjointed—employees, management and owners working toward different goals—or just a little out of sync, Actions Speak can pull it back together and get you back on the same track, the right track.
