Cannabis and Music Enthusiasts Congregate at Smokeout Music Festival

As the hot but tolerable afternoon sun fell over the Smokeout Festival that took place on Saturday, March 3 at the San Bernardino NOS Events Center, music fans and cannabis enthusiasts slowly congregated in front of the main stage to hear some of their favorite bands perform.

Ritmo Machine and Mobb Deep kept the early birds entertained, but the event gained momentum with the performance of Orange County's The Dirty Heads. And the show was in full swing by the time Cafá Tacuba took charge in what served as the Mexican rocker's return to the stage after a long hiatus. Like a bullet train, they rolled through their hits with the same energy, intensity and charisma as they did when they first started some 20 years ago. Hits like "Ingrata", "No Controles", "El Fin de La Infancia", "Como Te Extraño", and the classic "Chilanga Banda" blazed through the speakers before the band bid farewell with "El Baile Y El Salon".

Hip hop fans also had their hit at mad performances with Wiz Khalifa and Cypress Hill delivering strong sets, but it was clear by the massive turnout and energetic chants of the crowd that one of the favorites of the evening was Sublime with Rome. Their set began with "Get Ready" and the hits continued with songs like "Smoke Two Joints", "Date Rape", "Garden Grove", "Santeria", "Wrong Way" and "What I Got".

With a blistering attack of stage lights and sound effects, Korn brought the evening full circle and took fans on a ride of high energy intensity and good old kick-ass hardcore rock n' roll.
