Nuclear In Hawaii?

Written by Marsha Johnston

Thursday, 26 March 2009

Incredible, but true ... almost.

In a tale that shows just how powerful an ally the need to cut carbon emissions could become for the nuclear industry, the Hawa'ian legislature actually held hearings recently on HB1, a bill that would have initiated nuclear energy development in paradise. The bill would have directed "the department of business, economic, development, and tourism to develop a permitting process for nuclear energy generation facilities in Hawaii." After one day of hearings by the Committees on Energy & Environmental Protection and Water, Land and Ocean Resources, members voted unanimously to hold it.

Marco Mangelsdorf, co-owner of solar integrator ProVision Technologies, was not surprised at the outcome: "It's over, done, held till forever. Actually, it could conceivably be revived next year at the discretion of the committee chairs, but don't bet on it. Nuclear power in Hawai'i? Give me a break." In the meantime, with electrical rates at 30 cents/kwh, combined with federal and state incentives, ProVision is thriving, hiring a new operations manager, all to handle systems of 100kw or less, he notes.

Why would any sane person prefer the possibility of nuclear pollution that lasts longer than presently recorded history over the endless tidal surge capability of the Hawaiian Island waters? What a misdirection of planning and venture capital!

Purchased ugg ultra short on sale for my wife, who was not an ugg boots nightfall chocolate fan. she is now! they are ideal for our frigid weather and heavy snows. i am wearing these boots and i love them, got them in online purchase! i am an ugg fan and i do have to say these are comfortable! excellent purchase! also they look so cute with jeans and leggings, an edgy change from the usual ugg black classic short boots and trust me i have many a pair! you will not be sorry. 5 stars all around i love these ugg new arrival chocolate boot! i ordered them on this online site! it is so fast. i have never been so excited about a pair of boots before.i love these ugg cheap classic cardy! they are my 3rd pair of ugg; i also have the classic short and mini. i like how these are sturdier, and less of a slipper feel. they do run small on the calves. i do like the snug fit though.

Hi, We're EnviroWonk

Yeah, OK, we can be the change that we want to see in the world. But unless powerful people in powerful positions want to be that change as well, nothing's going to change.

So now, finally, there's a place where you can go for news and analysis of politics from an environmental perspective.
