★★★★★ Fire Breathing Hard Core Metal with a Twist
 Les Ékorchés self-titled debut album is hard core savageness. The band is comprised of members from other impressionable Canadian groups: Vocalist Mark Vaillankourt from B.A.R.F., Drummer Michel "Away" Langevin from Voivod, Guitarist Pat Gordon from Ghoulunatics, and Cellist Philippe Mius from Maruka. Yes - a cello in a heavy metal album! Their original concept is an acoustic primal sound that's sure to grab hold of you from Shot Ça Yeule to Tête Dans L'Kul. All 15 songs move in machine gun fire speed. Vaillankourt's scream sends motivating chills down your spine. Langevin never disappoints with his thundering beats. Gordon's amplified eerie guitar work and Mius' cello reverberate the angry message these guys are parlaying. Lyrics remind us what's wrong with society. The dark, cold winters of Montreal inspired riveting songs that make you think and still feel the massiveness of it all.
